

GERMAN ATTACKS UPON SALONIKI NOT EXPECTED

Entente General Does Not Expect Needless Sacrifice of Men.

ATHENS, April 1.—"I do not believe the Austro-Germans seriously intend attacking Saloniki," said an entente general to the Associated Press correspondent. "They have an excellent intelligence service in Macedonia, and are fully aware of the great strength of our positions. I do not think they will throw away men needlessly in trying to take it, especially after the Verdun experience."

"In respect to a possible offensive by the entente allies it is impossible to say anything. I believe Saloniki to be absolutely impregnable."

200 Killed, Is Claim.

BERLIN, April 1.—"Athens reports that at least 200 Anglo-French soldiers were killed by the air attack," says the Overseas News Agency in an item given out for publication. "Twenty tons of explosives were detonated and numerous barracks were burned. Twenty-seven Serbian railroad cars, with war material, and an ammunition shed in the city were destroyed."

"Greek public opinion sharply criticizes the proceedings of the entente allies which have exposed Saloniki to attacks, as their headquarters and military establishments are in the town. The refusal of the entente governments to pay damages caused by the air attack has caused much bitter feeling in Greek circles."

Probably Monday's Raid.

The foregoing item probably refers to the air raid by seven German machines on Saloniki last Monday. A Berlin report of the attack said the air squadron dropped numerous bombs on the new harbor and petroleum depot and in the entente encampment north of the town. An Athens dispatch said the Greek government had protested against the bombardment. Saloniki reported that four of the attacking machines were brought down.

WINNER OF SILVER MEDAL.

Chief Gunner's Mate Rewarded for Rescue of Sailor Comrade.

The rescue of a comrade by an enlisted man in the navy has won for Chief Gunner's Mate Frank W. Crilly a silver medal of honor, awarded him by the Secretary of the Treasury. The rescue occurred at Honolulu, April 17, last, in connection with the salvage of the submarine F-4.

Crilly, who had little or no experience in deep-sea diving, volunteered to go to the rescue of Chief Gunner's Mate William F. Loughman, who had become foul of a line while 250 feet beneath the surface. After two hours of the most dangerous kind of work, during which he was himself knocked unconscious by a swinging wire cable, Crilly succeeded in clearing the imperiled man.
